those now embarked in the cultivation of fish, and who is the superintendent of State fisheries in New York, is now in this city, and has laid before the commissioners of Virginia and many gentlemen who take a deep interest in the matter, the most conclusive proofs of the great success which has attended the efforts to stock the northern streams with the best fish.

A remarkable illustration with regard to shad in the Connecticut appears in the report Mr. Seth Green, one of the most skilled of those now embarked in the cultivation of fish, shad in the Connecticut appears in the report of the fish commissioners of Massachusetts submitted to the Legislature last January. After some account of the process of hatching shad, by which in the spring of 1870 there were hatched and turned loose at Hadley Falls, in the Connecticut river, 60,000,000 of embryos, the report describes the enormous take in that river. For years the supply of shad had been falling off from the curtailment of latching grounds by the dams in the river and hat been raining on hold the hatching grounds by the dams in the river and by the modern modes of catching fish, which are very destructive. In May, '70, the enormous influx of shad was without precedent. The report says:

'On Sunday, May 21, vessels in Long Island sound observed the unusal spectacle of vast shoals of shad. The next day they struck in at and about the mouth of the river and filled the nets. At Lincoln, ten miles from the mouth, and on the coast, 3,560 fish were taken in one pound, (500 is usually a large catch,) and the total yield of the pounds for that day were 25,000. At Huddam island, a short distance up the river, 700 were taken at one sweep of the seine, which is more than one-third the wield of a similar saint for the midd. third the yield of a similar seine for the whole of the previous season. A seine four miles below Hartford took 900 the same day. * * Now, it does not appear that on the Hudson to the west or on the Merrimack, to the east, the run of shad was unusual. On the contrary, both those rivers report a small average. Whence, then, this local phenomenon? The Connecticut people call them 'Green's shad, 'attributing the increase to the artificial hatching by Seth Green at Hadley Falls in 1867.'' (It takes three and four years for the shad to mature.)

This is a very interesting and conclusive piece of testimony. By the process of artificial third the yield of a similar seine for the whole piece of testimony. By the process of artificial hatching nearly all the eggs are hatched, and the young fish matured. By the natural hatching, with the obstructions now in every river, from the country. but a very small proportion of the eggs deposi-

In Philadelphia, yesterday, a contest came off between two compositors for prizes offered by the proprietors of the Printers' Circular to the swiftest type-setter. George Arensberg set 1,822 ems, and R. McLean 1,627 ems in an hour. The competition extends to compositors in other cities of the States and Canada, and takes place to-day. The principal prize is a silver six-inch composing stick.

A dispatch from Wilmington, N. C., says, that last night Loweg and his band of outlaws went into Lumberton, in Robeson county, broke open the jail, released several of his followers, and retired without molestation, though a company of U. S. soldiers were quartered in the town.

Pending the protracted negotiation by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for a perpetual lease of the united companies of New Jersey, a competitor comes into the field in the shape of the Reading Railroad Company, which makes even a better offer for the same great

T. W. Conway writes to the New York Tribune, giving a report of the speech that Gen. Sherman did make in New Orleans. In this speech the General is entirely non-committal, though he states that the words he reported as his in the previous speech were not correct. In 1821 Isaac Nye was a merchant of Burlington, Vt. In 1839 or '40 he closed the shutters, which have never been opened since.— Here he has lived as a hermit. The goods in the store when he closed it have remained and mouldered on the shelves. He would sell none of them. He had a quantity of valuable lumber which lay and rotted at the wharf. He had been feeble for a year or two, and on Tues-day, 25th ult., he died. He was laid out, at his own request, upon the counter of the old

The canned fruit trade in Pittsburg is represented as larger than ever before. Commercial interests generally are prosperous, except the oil trade, which is much depressed. Cleveland and New York have carried this away in two directions, and hereafter Baltimore is likely to divert another share of it in a third.

Sidney Mason, Esq., one of the oldest residents on the Fifth avenue, and many years president of the Sixth Avenue Railroad Company, died Tuesday morning, in the 72d year of his age. He was formerly the senior partner in the commercial house of Mason & Co., which at one time controlled the Porto Rico trade.

The Bishop of Natchez has addressed a letter to Governor Alcorn, stating the plan the Catholic Church desires established in that State. It is that where the parents of twentyfive children desire a separate school, they shall have their quota of public money and the appointment of teachers and books.

The Statue of Abraham Lincoln, intended for the Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, is now on its way to this country. The statue is of bronze, was sculptured by Rogers, and is valued at the sum of $30,000. It is to be placed on a granite pedestal, designed by Struthers. The entire structure will be thirty-three feet in height, conspicuously placed, and visible both on entering and leaving the park.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or mar-ringe.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Both the Eastward and Westward bound trains make close connection at Strasburg with the Winchester and Strasburg Railroad to Winchesttion, &c. MENTALLY.-The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all agescan now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply im-Mediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before contemplating

MARRIAGE.

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness, Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own. DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and ir prudent votary pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-time sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, denfiners, nodes on the shin bones and arms, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, pro-whence no traveller returns. whence no traveller returns.

It is a melancholy fact that theasands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through failing into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious o injuries account and instead of being re-over his galling disappointment. Steamers leave regularly from Georgetown, foot of Congress street, EVERY WEDNES-DAY; from Alexandria, foot of King street, OFFICE, No. 7, SOUTH FREDERICK STREET) BALTIMORE, MD.
